There can be no doubt regarding yesterday's victory by the home team. Bostons hoped to check theprogres of the Giants by putting "Kid" Nichols in the box, but if ever a crack twirler received a drubbing, it was the "Kid." For two in-nings he had the Glants' heavy sluggers batting in the air. But from the third inning until the last the Giants walloped he leaher in grand style.

Meekin was hit pretty hard at times, but several beautiful plays by Joyce, Davis and Van Haitren kept the visitors from doing any great damage. The Glants never played a better game in batting or fielding than they did yesterday, but several stupid plays on the bases could have easily been

The Bostons finished their first inning by a run on two hits and a wild pitch.

Nothing much was done by either side intil the third. Long fumbled Stafford's it, and Wilson received his base on balls. Meekin was given instructions to bunt the bal, but after two miserable failures, he made a vicious swipe at the next good one, and it went rolling to the caringe sheds, and all three men scored. They tallied in the next two innings after that, but in the sixth, with three to the good, they falled to score. The seventh cound hem increasing their lead, and in the eighth they went at Nichols's curves with a vengeance, scoring four singles, a louble and a triple, which added five more cans.

B. J. Wefers, Who Will Essay Three Championships at Manhattan Field To-morrow. These are the best pictures that have ever been printed of Bernard J. Wefers, the fastest sprinter in the world. Wefers is averse to posing before a camera, but consented to do so for the New York Journal. He is shown in two positions, first simply in athletic costume, and second just as he has received the order, "Get set." The athletic public are anxiously waiting for to-morrow's championship games, to see if Wefers is capable of carrying out successfully the programme that he has mapped out. Last year Wefers won the 100 and the 220 yards dashes, and at these two distances need have no fear of being defeated. Wefers and the New York Athletic Club officials feel, however, that he can accompilsh more, and have also entered him in the 440 yards race to-morrow. It had been rumored that Tom Burke, of Boston, the present quarter mile champion, was a doubtful starter in this event, but the Journal received a dispatch last night from Manager Graham, of the Boston A. A., in which he stated that Burke will certainly compete and endeavor to retain his title. This being the case, many now predict that Myers's record of 48% seconds will surely be beaten.

1. The post.

1. T were each quoted at 4 to 1. The race resulted in exactly the same way as the first of the meeting. The two-year-old filly Casscopia, from the Morris Stable, again took the lead from the start, and though the three-year-old Dolando chased her as before, he could never get near enough to be dangerous, and she won by two lengths, ridden out. Casseopia was again glying Dolando eight pounds in actual weight. As The Friar was again winner of a stake, it was a curious repetition of form.

The second race brought an exceedingly bad lot of maldens, three-year-olds and upward, to the post, the distance being a mile. Beaumont, a big Belvidere three-year-old gelding from the Preakness Stable, that showed some speed in races at Sheepshead Bay, was made favorite, Simshaving the mount. He was cut down in the race, a buckle being torn from the boot he wore, and his quarter being badiyout, and though its came fast at the finish, he was never formiduble. The winner turned up in the 10 to 1 shot Golf, but Bellport should have won but for Griffin being overconfident. This enabled O'Leary to get up and nip him a head almost on the post.

A selling race at a mile and a sixteenth developed another surprise. Hazlet, at almety pounds, and little Powers in the saddle, was made a decided favorite at S to 5. The colf sulked all the way, and his midget jockey could not get an effort out of him. Buckwa, at 7 to 1, went into the lead at the end of half a mile, and was not again headed. He did not win by any means easily, however, for Martin made a desperate effort to get up with the lead at the end of half a mile, and was not again headed.
